RELIC FROM ANOTHER DAY

In the year 1792 Robert B. Thomas published the first edition of the Old Farmer's Almanac, which during the next 100 years became a sort of secular bible for thousands of American citizens, particularly farmers.

The 157th edition is just off the press, and while it has been greatly enlarged and improved since its beginning, it still resembles in format and content the almanacs many older persons knew in their childhood. Its popularity is attested by the sale of 400,000 copies last year.

One of its principal features is a forecast of the weather during the months of 1949. The winter just ahead will be icy, but not as cold as last winter. Farmer readers are advised to use winter months to "mend harness," that the job may be out of the way when spring arrives.

In addition to weather information, there are jokes old and new, and much of interest to both city and farm dwellers.

No publication is more basically American, it having outlasted the Constitution by several years. It hung on many a kitchen wall, and in spite of modern facilities for forecasting and broadcasting weather information, the almanac is still followed closely for that purpose. It has come down from that period when life was simple and there was happiness in the land.

An Open Letter
To Santa Claus

Dear Santa:—
I have asked practically everybody else for what I want and the response always seems to be a shrug of the shoulders and a twisted grin which has little or no meaning.

I sincerely hope, Dear Santa, that you can at least assure me of certain things that will make me the happiest boy in town on Christmas day.

Please send and install street markers that will enable me to know where I am when I look for a street that isn't there. Also include in the order correct house numbers for certain homes in Jacksonville who apparently have used their numbers for other ventures, this, I am sure, would save me the embarrassment of entering the wrong house on the wrong street.

When you deliver those gifts Santa, you need not bother coming down the chimney at the city hall, just walk through the crack in the front door and make yourself at home.

Now just one more favor Santa, and I promise not to bother you for another thing this year, while you're in town. Please, oh please, snoot the starlings! Wishing you and the Mrs. and all the little Clauses a Merry Christmas!

Major Henri Servais.

A Few Words In Defense
Of Man's 'Best Friend'

By GEORGE TUCKER
(For Hal Boyle, Who is Ill)

New York—(AP)—There are those who say dogs came to their position in society through hand-lapping and flattery.

This is a wicked lie. The literature of dogs is loaded with actions of courage and loyalty, and history proves them closer to man than any other animal.

Dogs give him companionship and devotion. They wear their hearts in their eyes. They accept constant neglect without recrimination. I wish I could explain how dogs got that way.

Once I knew a Red Terrier who followed his master into suicide. He jumped off a building. There was a setter whose heart broke, and he died, when the man who owned him never came home from a duck hunt. Ever hear of a cow grieving to death?

Awarded Silver Star
Five years ago in Sicily a dog named Chips, a mongrel in the Army's K-9 corps, won a Silver Star by capturing an enemy machinegun nest. He leaped for the gunner's throat, and the gunner, suddenly very white, surrendered. Three others threw up their hands. Chips, part Husky Sheppard and Collie, was wounded. A general recommended Chips for the Distinguished Service Cross for "Courageous action in singlehandedly eliminating a dangerous machinegun nest and causing the surrender of its crew."

After that, the War Department said medals couldn't be given to dogs. But Chips got his. They riveted it to his collar. Later when eight other K-9s were killed in the South-West Pacific, the Army posthumously awarded them certificates "For Outstanding Performance of Duty."

Aged Patient Dies At State Hospital After Sustaining Injuries

Charles F. Hall, 73, a patient at the Jacksonville State Hospital, died late Monday night from injuries suffered when he and another patient, Frank Giovani, 60, engaged in an altercation at the hospital on November 22.

Hall was admitted to the hospital from Easton, Mason county, Ill., two years ago. He was a retired farmer.

According to testimony at an inquest conducted by Coroner C. S. Young at the state hospital Tuesday morning, Hall and Giovani were both considered quiet patients and had not previously caused any trouble.

Dr. R. E. Holben, the first witness at the inquest testified that Hall and Giovani were in the hospital section of the state institution for treatment. On the morning of November 22, Dr. Holben said he was in the hospital when a call came that a man had been injured. Dr. Holben said he was at the scene within a minute and found Hall on the floor of a toilet room. He said that Elmer Dover, an institutional worker, had pulled Giovani off of Hall.

Nurse Testifies
Louise Crowe, 1108 South East St., a nurse at the hospital, said she was on duty the morning of November 22. At 9:45 a. m., she testified, both Hall and Giovani were up and about the hospital. She said that she did not know what started the trouble and the first she knew about it was when some one said a man had been hurt. She said she entered the toilet and that Giovani was stomping Hall. She said Giovani called out "I am glad I killed him."

Elmer Dover testified that when he entered the toilet, Giovani was kicking Hall in the head. He pulled the patient off of Hall and took him to his room.

Grace Hacker, 1050 South East street, said she assisted in removing Hall to a bed. She did not see Giovani strike Hall.

Dr. William McKinley, pathologist at the hospital who reported the autopsy reported his findings to the jury.

Pneumonia Develops
He said that he found that death resulted from broncho-pneumonia the contributory cause being injuries suffered when he was hit and stomped by another patient.

Boy Train Wrecker To Be Transferred From Prison To Lincoln

Charles Stewart Willis, who as a 16 year old boy was sentenced to life imprisonment on two indictments for wrecking a Wabash passenger train in Jacksonville, is expected to be transferred from the Illinois penitentiary at Menard to the Lincoln State School and Colony on a legal technicality.

Willis' case is scheduled to be revived in Morgan county circuit court Wednesday as the result of his successful application for a writ of habeas corpus.

A mandate of the Illinois supreme court will be presented to Judge L. E. Wilhite in circuit court, who will be asked to direct Sheriff Ralph Bourn to proceed with transfer of Willis from the penitentiary to the Lincoln school and colony, in accordance with the order of the supreme court.

Willis has been an inmate of the Menard penitentiary since a few months after he threw a switch on the Wabash railroad near Webster avenue, causing a wreck which killed John Rapp and Harry L. Myers of Springfield, members of the crew. Several passengers were injured.

The Wabash wreck occurred on the evening of Dec. 28, 1932. Willis' arrest followed here several days later. He has served 15 years behind prison walls.

Charles Stewart Willis

(This photograph was taken at the time of Willis' arrest in 1932, when he was 16 years old.)

Willis' original petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed in the Illinois supreme court against the warden of Menard penitentiary by his attorney, Manuel M. Wiseman of Alton. The petition sought to obtain the release of the two-time lifer on grounds that the Morgan county circuit court was without jurisdiction over the person of Willis when it convicted him of the murder of the two railroad trainmen.

16 Years Old at Sentence
The confessed train wrecker, who was known as a destructive child even before he reached his teens, was 16 years old when on March 13, 1933, he waived trial by jury and pleaded guilty to two murder indictments.

The court appointed a commission of psychiatrists to examine the mental condition of the frail youth, whose hands had sent two men to their doom. After the report of the commission Willis again entered pleas of guilty and these were accepted by former Judge Walter W. Wright.

Willis was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment on both indictments.

In the petition for habeas corpus, Willis' attorney contended that at the time the crimes were committed Willis was a feeble-minded person under the jurisdiction of the county court of Jersey county, Illinois, which on April 8, 1932, entered an order committing the youth to the Lincoln State School and Colony.

Conviction Held Void
The supreme court in a lengthy opinion handed down Sept. 24, 1948, held that the commitment order from the Jersey county court had never been rescinded or vacated, and that for this reason the convictions were void.

The supreme court ordered the warden to release Willis from custody and deliver him to the sheriff of Morgan county, who was directed to deliver the prisoner to proper authorities for recommitment under the order of the Jersey county court of April 8, 1932, which found him to be a feeble-minded person.

Rehearing Denied
A petition filed by the attorney general asking for a rehearing of the Willis' petition was denied on Nov. 11 this year.

State's Attorney W. L. Fay and Assistant State's Attorney William T. Wilson conferred Tuesday regarding the case. They said the supreme court mandate would be presented to Judge Wilhite, who will be asked to direct the sheriff to proceed in carrying out the order.

Records show that Willis was involved in a series of costly and dangerous escapades before he wrecked the train here. While he was living in Jerseyville he set fire to several buildings, including an elevator, livery stable and grain mill.

He was adjudged feeble-minded and sent to Lincoln, where an examination resulted in announcement that he was not feeble-minded. After transfer to the Boys' Opportunity Home at Decatur he was released within a short time.

Willis was an orphan and was reared by persons who took him from a home.

Local Students In Cast Of "Arsenic And Old Lace"

The Illinois College Hilltop Players will begin their season with the presentation of the lively farce, "Arsenic and Old Lace," at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the J. H. S. auditorium.

Several local students will appear in leading and supporting roles for the one night performance. The love interest is portrayed by Dorothy Foote and Joe Baker, both of Jacksonville. Miss Foote is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Foote, 312 North Church street. She previously appeared as Maria in "Twelfth Night." Mr. Baker is the son of Thomas Ray Baker, 1824 South Main. This is his first appearance in a Hilltopper production.

Donna Postlewait, a freshman from Chapin, plays one of the kind old aunts who poison lonely old men as a charity. Harry LaTief from Griggsville plays the insane nephew who thinks he is Teddy Roosevelt. The role of Dr. Einstein, a plastic surgeon, is played by Richard Robertson of Berlin, Ill.

Others appearing in the farce include Florence Majewski, Don Polzin, Clayton Torbert, David Sweet, Dale Davis, Harold Schaefer, Jim Kinzel, Rod Sparnicht, and Bill Worley.

The play is directed by Octavia K. Frees, instructor in speech and dramatics at Illinois College.

The world's first cog railway, begun in 1869, still operates to the 6,288-foot summit of Mt. Washington in New Hampshire.

JULIA'S STORY: "Julia" tells her name is really Benny Castle. She traveled the river boats as a partner of a crooked gambler. On that fatal trip, the real Julia had made friends with her, counted that she was on her way to marry, right across, a man worth $100,000. The gambler, learning about it, forced Benny to take Julia for a walk around the dock late at night. Nothing happened. Benny returned Julia to her cabin. "And that was the last I ever saw of her," she claims.

XXVIII

"NO more than that you participated?" he said slowly. "No more than that I participated," she answered. "About an hour before daylight, when the whole boat was still asleep, he came and knocked surreptitiously upon my door, and woke me. 'Get dressed,' he said to me, 'I want you for something. Your lady friend of last night, had an accident while ago and fell from the boat in the dark. She never came up again.' That was all he told me, then or ever again."

"But you knew?" "How could I help but know? He must have inserted himself in the cabin while she was gone from it with me, and I am in wait there on the inside. I told him I knew. But he said if I accused him, he would accuse me in turn. That we would both be jailed for it alike."

"She's gone now beyond recall," he pointed out, "nothing you can do will bring her back up over the side, and there's $100,000 waiting for you when you step off this boat in New Orleans."

"I dressed and he swung back the door for me and I followed him out."

"He took my baggage, the little I had, into his cabin and blended it with his. And hers we removed, between us, from her cabin to mine, to take the place of my own. Not forgetting that caged bird of hers. He took from his pocket her letters from you, and the photograph you had sent her."

"At first he laughed and said I

And I put them in my own pocket-book. And then we bided our time and waited.

"In the confusion of docking and disembarking she was not missed. We left the boat separately, he at the very beginning, I almost at the last.

"I saw you standing there, and knew you from your photograph, and when at last the dock had cleared, I approached and stopped there by you. And there's the story, Lou."

SHE stopped, and settled back upon her own upturned heels. Her hands fell lifeless to her lap, as if incapable of further gesture.

"Not quite," he said. "Not quite. And what of What's-his-name? What was the further plan?"

"He said he would send word to me when enough time had passed. And when I heard from him, I was to—"

"Do as you did?" She shook her head determinedly. "Not as I did. As it seemed to you I did, maybe. I met him once for a few moments, in secret, when I was out on one of my shopping tours without you—that part was by prearrangement—and I told him there was no need for him to count on me any longer, he must abandon the scheme, I could no longer prevail on myself to carry it out."

"Why did you have a change of heart?"

"Why must you be told that now?"

"Why shouldn't I be?" "Very well then," she said. "I told him I could no longer count on him to do it. I told him I'd fallen in love with my own husband."

It was like a rainbow suddenly glistening in all its striped glory across dismal gray skies.

"At first he laughed and said I

Rural Youth To Sponsor Music, Drama Festival

A special meeting was held Monday evening in Farm Bureau hall by the Morgan County Rural Youth, during which plans were formulated for the County Music and Drama festival, which will take place here on Dec. 20.

The program decided upon for the festival will include four one-act comedies and musical numbers by a boys' quartet and a girls' trio. The presentations which receive "A" ratings will again be presented in the district competition, which also will take place in Morgan county.

This is the first time that the Morgan county organization has entered this competition. Further plans for the event will be made at a meeting to be held in Farm Bureau hall Sunday at 2 p. m., at which time auditions will be held and casts named.

The drama committee is comprised of Kenneth Reside, Jo Ann Reside, Elizabeth Hardy and Margaret Carrigan. Donald Schumaker is in charge of the boys' quartet and Elizabeth Hardy is chairman of the girls' trio.

Mrs. Eloise Tholen, assistant home adviser, is assisting in an advisory capacity.

New York Stock Market

New York, Nov. 30.—(P)—The stock market tipped a bit lower today in nervous trading. Losses had only a slight edge over gains and many issues moved back and forth from the minus to plus columns. Most changes were around a point or less although there were a handful running to as much as 3 points. Trading stepped along at a moderately active pace, with turnover for the full day at the rate of around 1,200,000 shares. This would compare with Monday's 1,010,000. Price trends were thoroughly mixed from the starting bell onward. Selling pressure increased a bit late in the session. Tax sales again presented a major source of supply. Even small declines were enough to put some issues at new lows for the year or more. In this category at one time or another were Chesapeake & Ohio, United Aircraft, International Harvester, Chrysler. Among the widest losers were Nickel Plate, Atlantic Coast Line, Firestone Tire, National Steel, and DuPont. Rails moved narrowly in the Bond Market. U. S. Government issues in over-the-counter dealings tended upward, especially in the distant maturity range.

ADVANCE BY WHEAT PROVIDES SUPPORT FOR OTHER GRAINS

On the decline there was some elevator buying, with the nearby deliveries of wheat and corn showing greatest resistance. Soybeans were around the day's low near the close following reports of lighter demand in the oil markets. Receipts were: Wheat 5 cars, corn 191, oats 23 and soybeans 6. At the finish wheat was 1 to 1 1/2 lower than the previous close, December $2.38 1/2. Corn was 1 to 1 1/2 lower, December $1.43 1/2. Oats were 1 to 1 1/2 lower, December 83 1/2. ### JHS Basketeers Halt Virginia's Winning Streak At Two Games

With only a minute and thirty seconds left in the last quarter, the Tigers came fighting from behind to win a thrilling contest from Waverly's quintet.

Trailing going into the third frame, the westenders outscored their opponents 10 to 5, with Cecil Hood and Carlstedt all hitting from the field, and Kwiat coming through with two timely gift tosses in the waning seconds of play. Stanley Kwiat spearheaded the Tiger's fighting finish with his driving play, both on defense and offense. Several times he dove head-first into tangle of players to emerge with the ball. It was this daring type of play that gave the I.S.D. quintet a victory after trailing the Scotties the majority of the contest.

Fray Starts Slowly
The fray started slowly with neither team being able to hit their shots. Cecil, the Wilson men's ace forward, did not count a marker from the floor until midway in the third quarter. Waverly, whose superior height gave them a decided advantage on rebounds, shot time and again without ringing the hoop. Alta Hood led I.S.D. scorers with 11 points and Mitchell racked up a like number to top his Scotty teammates.

The Scotties warmed up in the second quarter and every marker scored in quick succession to chalk up nine markers, while the still cold locals could muster but five points to fall behind 23 to 16 at half-time. Waverly's fast break clicked several times in this period, but Kwiat and Yates covered the Tiger's backcourt beautifully time and again to squelch the speedy Scotty forwards.

Even Scoring
Scoring was even in the third frame, with both teams hitting for 10 points. Cecil started hitting in this period, and scored half the Tiger's points, mainly through his efforts at the foul line. Meiers.

Villanova College Will Play Nevada In Harbor Bowl

New York, Nov. 30 —(P)—Another Bowl program was completed today when Villanova College accepted a bid to meet Nevada in the Harbor Bowl at San Diego, Calif., Jan. 1.

This leaves only two bowls unfilled. The Salad Bowl at Phoenix, Ariz., is seeking an opponent for Drake University. The Cigar Bowl at Tampa, Fla., still needs somebody to play Missouri Valley.

Arizona has been invited to play in the Salad Bowl.

Meanwhile, plans were discussed for a "doubleheader" attraction at Miami, Fla.

A group in the Miami City is endeavoring to arrange a night game in the Orange Bowl to follow the regular contest between Georgia and Texas on New Year's Day.

Teams being considered for the game are Santa Clara, Tulane and Penn State.

The Major Bowl lineup:

Rose at Pasadena—California vs. Northwestern.

Sugar at New Orleans — North Carolina vs. Oklahoma.

Cotton at Dallas—Southern Methodist vs. Oregon.

Orange at Miami — Georgia vs. Texas.

Gator at Jacksonville — Clemson vs. Missouri.

Dixie at Birmingham—Wake Forest vs. Baylor.

Delta at Memphis—Oklahoma A. & M. vs. William and Mary.

Sun at El Paso, Tex.—West Virginia vs. Texas Mines.

STRUNG NEARLY GETS THE BIRD

Sydney, Australia —(P)—An early bird got two yards of the wrong sort of worm recently in north-eastern Victoria, Australia. The bird, a magpie, was discovered on its side and gasping. A tug at what looked like a worm protruding from its mouth pulled out two yards of stout twine which the magpie had almost succeeded in swallowing. After this the bird got up and flew away.

Harbor, Salad And Cigar Bowls Each Shy A Grid Team

New York, Nov. 30 —(P)—Of the 30-odd post season bowl games, only three are still shopping around for a talent today.

They are the Harbor Bowl at San Diego, Calif.; the Salad at Phoenix, Ariz., and Cigar at Tampa, Fla., each looking for one other team to fill the bill.

The Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla., completed its program yesterday by naming Texas to play Georgia.

Three of the smaller post-season attractions also finished their lineups. The Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., named Murray State College of Kentucky to play St. Ross Teachers of Alpine, Tex. Trinidad Junior College of Colorado accepted a bid to meet Northeastern (Okla.) in the Salt Bowl at Hutchinson, Kas.

The Tangerine Bowl is Jan. 1. The Salt Bowl event is set for next Saturday. The Pacific Destroyer forces and Hawaiian All-Stars were named to play in the Silver Bowl at Mexico City Dec. 11.

Sponsors of the Harbor Bowl announced they had invited Navy to take on Nevada but Navy officials declined comment on the bid. Villanova, meanwhile, is said to be considering an invitation to play in the event.

The Cigar Bowl has chosen unbeaten Missouri Valley College for one half of its fare and has narrowed the other half down to three teams—Bowling Green (Ohio), St. Thomas (Minn.) and Wofford (S. C.).

The Salad Bowl, with Drake University already chosen, is awaiting a decision by Arizona players to take the opposing role.

It was announced in Nashville that Vanderbilt and Tulane may meet in a post-season game at Mobile, Ala., Dec. 30.

Basketball Team At Ashland High Gets New Outfits

Twelve new warm-up jackets and jerseys have been purchased for the first 12 players on the basketball squad. The war-up jackets are white trimmed in purple. The collar, the sleeves and the numbers are all trimmed in purple. The jackets have a quarter length zipper on the front and quarter length sleeves.

The new jerseys are purple with white numbers. The boys will wear these and the grey pants on games that are away. They will wear the white suits that they had last year at the home games. The old purple suits will go to the players who have been on the team only a short while.

Winchester Edged By Rushville Five
By 49 To 44 Count

Winchester — Howard Lester's Winchester Wildcats lost a close one to a red-hot Rushville five 49 to 44 on the Scott county floor Tuesday night.

Winchester led at the end of the first and third frames, but fell behind going into the fourth quarter, and was unable to regain their lost momentum sufficiently to pull ahead.

The loss gives the Wildcats a fifty-fifty season's record, after winning from Mt. Sterling in their opener last week.

Patterson, Rushville center, led scorers for the evening with a grand total of 18 points. Hankens, his opponent led the Winchester five with 13 counters.

Big 9 Cage Race Promises To Be Wild Scramble

Chicago, Nov. 30 —(P)—Basketball coaches of the Big Nine conference foresee the wildest championship scramble in years with four teams, and possibly as many as seven, contending for the 1949-1948 cage crown.

They generally agreed in an Associated Press survey today that Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio State and Wisconsin appear to be the strong contenders in about that order. But Northwestern, Purdue and Indiana also were viewed as surprise packages.

A trend of all-around team improvement is prevalent throughout the Big Nine, making for an exciting and unpredictable campaign in which sophomores will play a prominent part.

Ignore Iowa, Wisconsin
Coaches failed to give much consideration to Iowa and Wisconsin after graduation took those two clubs' scoring stars, Murray Wier and Bobby Cook. Wier, the Big Nine sharpshooting champion, led Iowa to runner-up spot behind title-winning Michigan last season. Cook helped pace Wisconsin to a tie with Illinois for third place. Purdue finished fifth, Ohio State and Minnesota deadlocked for sixth, and Indiana and Northwestern tied for last place.

With each conference team but Purdue opening the season in tune-up engagements this week, here is the coaches' outlook:

Tippy Dye, Ohio State—"We will do all right if we are not hurt too much at center. We lost 6 foot 6 inch Neil Johnston who signed a pro baseball contract. Our best replacement is Bob Radiger, 6 foot 4, inch center. Michigan probably will be the favorite, but we all know how hard it is to keep a championship team in the race for a second consecutive title."

Sees Close Race
Ozzie Cowles, Minnesota—"Only three men now appear sure of their positions—Jim McIntyre at center, Whitey Skoog and Walter Salovich, both forwards. The coming race will be very close. Almost all schools have veterans returning and some good sophomores. Michigan, Ohio State and Illinois possibly will have the edge."

Bud Foster, Wisconsin—"We have a better team as a unit than last season. But there will be no Bobby Cook on campus. Caliber of play will be high all through the conference."

Mel Taube, Purdue—"Our prospects are about the same as last season. We'll have a sound veteran squad and possibly may break into the first division."

Harry Combes, Illinois—"We'll be faster this year, and I think, a better team. We won't have as much height because we lost 6 foot 3 inch Jack Burmaster. But the sophomores coming up look good."

Branch McCracken, Indiana—"We finished at the bottom last season but we'll be improved this time with some good sophomore prospects fighting for places."

Duke Lomborg, Northwestern—"We will be counting heavily on sophomores. Of the 21 players on the varsity squad, 14 are sophomores."

Editor To Speak At Banquet For Carrollton Team

Carrollton—Alfred Johnson, editor of the Carrollton Patriot will be the speaker at the annual football banquet to be given Friday evening, honoring the 1948 football squad of the Carrollton high school. Johnson's topic will be "Fifty Years of Football in Carrollton." The banquet will be served by the Mother's Auxiliary in the school building.

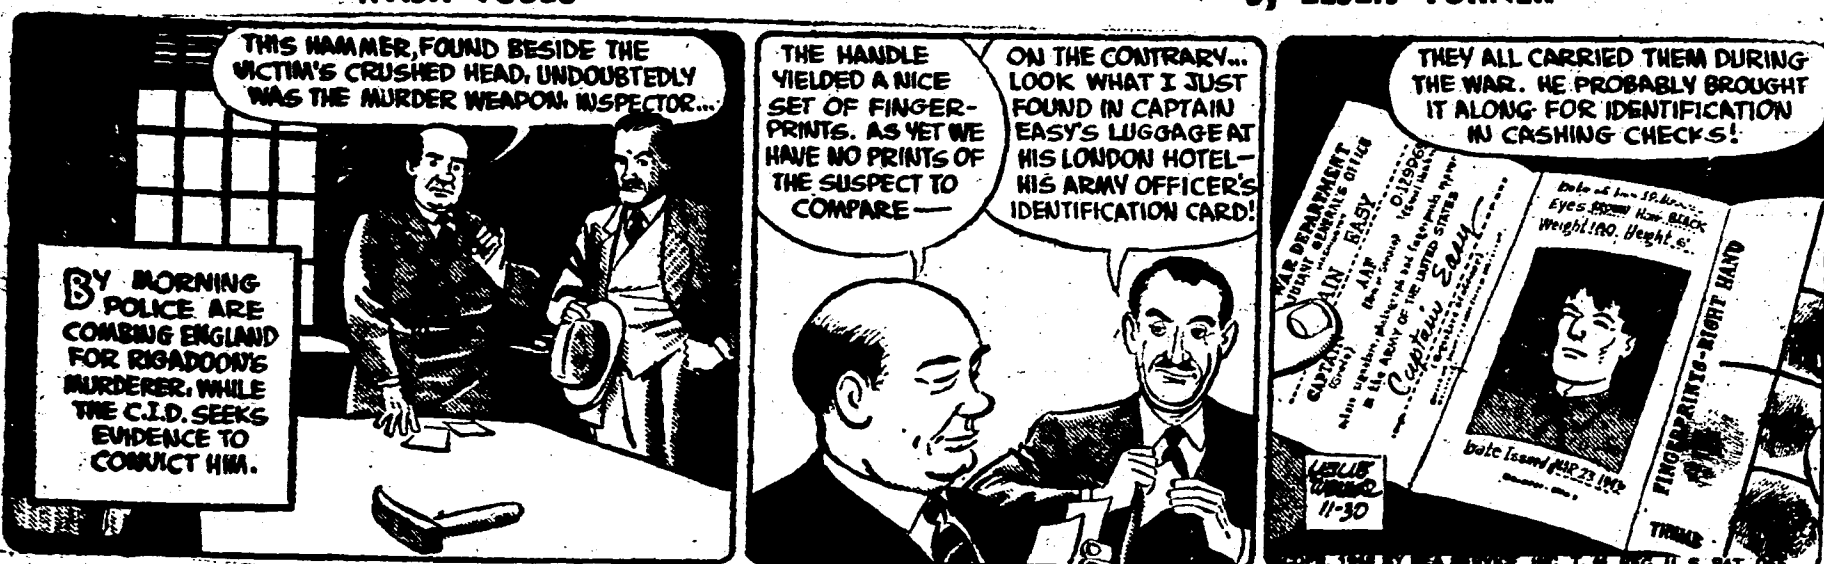

As the football season closes many of the players will be opening the basketball season on the home ground with a game Wednesday evening with the Brighton high school team.

Miss Sophia Powell, county home adviser, will be guest of honor Friday at the covered dish luncheon and Christmas party of the Greene County Executive board which will be held Friday at the home of the chairman of the board, Mrs. A. K. Baldwin.

'Old Gold', Iowa Angus Steer Purple Ribbon Winner At Exposition

Chicago, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Agriculture's greatest title, grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition, today was bestowed on a sleek black angus owned by C. E. Yoder & Sons of Muscatine, Ia.

The 1,200 pound animal, "Old Gold," was proclaimed by A. D. Weber of Kansas State College, Manhattan, as the finest of more than 400 steers which competed for the title.

Salvation Army To Do Extensive Christmas Work

One hundred and twenty-eight Thanksgiving dinners were served at the Salvation Army Post last week and 23 more were taken to shut-ins in the city.

It is estimated that approximately $2,000 will be needed for the Christmas effort this year. Most of the Christmas dinners will be in the form of grocery orders and therefore more cash will be required.

The Kettles will start ringing next Friday and the Lions Club will dispose of the Christmas edition of the War Crys on Saturday of this week. In previous years the kettles have produced less than one third of the required funds, the balance coming in by other contributions. It is hoped that Christmas contributions will arrive early so the agency will know just how much Christmas work can be undertaken, according to Major Servais, commanding officer.

To Demonstrate Latest Corn Drying Equipment

The farmers of this area are invited to inspect the operation of a modern corn drier, which will be operated throughout Thursday afternoon at Green Meadows, the Richard P. Wilson farm located just east of Chapin on Route 104.

Frank Andrews of Carlinville, extension engineer of the University of Illinois, will be on hand to assist with the demonstration and to explain the operation of the machinery.

Farm Adviser E. H. Garlich said he hoped many would attend the demonstration, which is open to all farmers of this area.
